Dear Snapcheck,

I know I'm probably really late but I'm applying for your open Front End intern position!

I've built up experience in the web development field through a mix of personal, freelance, and professional projects.

I'm currently a freelance web developer, and I've just finished working on a web development project for a company called Simple Tea. From the front end design of the site, SSL integration, mobile and desktop responsive styling, to the eCommerce integration with customized Shopify scripts, I believe that working on this project has given me a solid foundation for this position!

Attached is my resume, as well as my solution to the front end coding challenge posted on Github. I used React and state hooks for my front end solution and it's hosted on Heroku here! Logging in just requires a username and you're off to the races!

If you have any questions please feel free to reach out at any time!

Sincerely,
Chester Guinto
